- The survey measures the attitudes, beliefs and behaviour patterns of diverse populations in more than thirty nations.

- For the first time, Croatia joined ESS in rounds 4 (2008) and 5 (2010), it missed three next waves, but it is now back from 2018 round

- All data and documentation is freely available

- National representative: Ministry of Science and Education
- National coordinating institution: Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences, University of Zagreb

The Role of ESFRI in EOSC

From the EOSC Declaration (2017):

- The implementation of the EOSC is a process, not a project, by its nature iterative and based on constant learning and mutual alignment;

- The EOSC should incentivise the re-use of existing building blocks, state-of-the-art services and solutions delivered by past and ongoing projects, local, national and European, as opposed to subsidizing actions aiming at reinventing the wheel. It should facilitate learning from the past, adopting best practices, tailoring scientific community needs through live use cases and leveraging the network effect.

- The role of ESFRI and EIROFORUM research infrastructures and organisations in the EOSC will be enhanced, Member States and the European Commission made significant investment; research infrastructures should be 'the steward of the community of standards' and provide scientists with a ramp-up for the utilisation of the EOSC.

EU Council Presidency Translator

- The EU Presidency Translator (EUPT, https://en.presidencymt.eu) is a multilingual communication tool that allows MPs, journalists, translators and visitors of the Croatian Presidency of the Council of the EU during the first half of 2020., to access information in the Croatian language and thus bypass the language barrier that the Croatian language could pose to them.

- The tool was developed within the CEF project EU Presidency Translator Toolkit in close cooperation with the Department of Linguistics of the Faculty of Philosophy, University of Zagreb which provided full multilingual Croatian-English support.

- After the expiration of the presidency of the Republic of Croatia in the Council of the EU, EUPT will remain available to all users as one of the permanent e-infrastructures in the field of humanities. The development team from Croatia is now coordinating HR-CLARIN infrastructure.
